First Announcement

International College of Dentists European Section

53rd Annual Meeting

Athens - Greece

Welcome

The European Section of the International College of Dentists is about to come back to Greece in 2008, fifteen years after the Meeting of 1993, when Andreas Tsoutsos was President. The ICD is the international dental forum that aims to award excellence in dentistry and should also enjoy excellence in its 53rd Annual Meeting. The selected venue that combines history with modern facilities is the Olympic City of Athens. The Scientific Program aims to be stimulating both intellectually and philosophically while also conveying cutting - edge information comprehensively related to Dentistry as a professional health discipline. The Social Program on the other hand will develop unforgettable memories of living tradition and natural beauty as well as elegant entertainment, "Greek kief" and fellowship.

Dr Aris - Petron Tripodakis
President of ICD European Section
